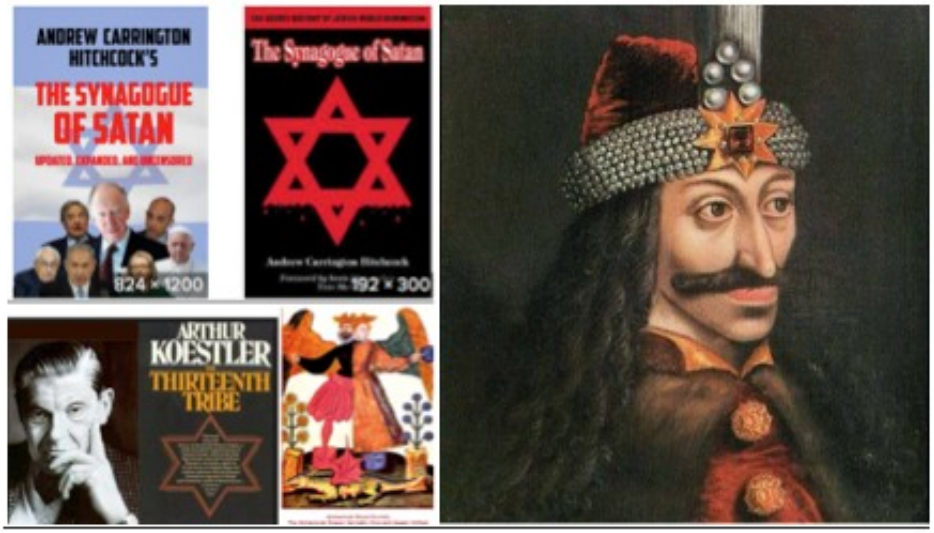
THE ANUNNAKI ARE THE ALIEN BNEI ELOHIM PART 2

ANNUNAKI HISTORY IS THE ORIGIN FOR THE SERPENT SEED BLOODLINE



The serpent, reptilian and dragon bloodline came from the red hair green-eyed dark hair dark eyed races in Babylon and the Middle East.

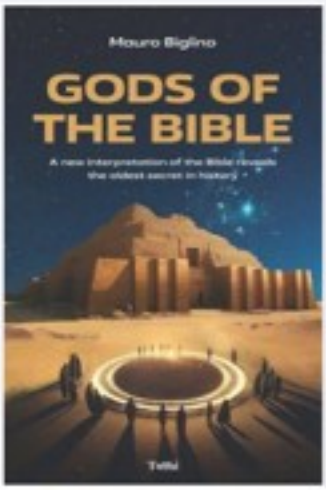
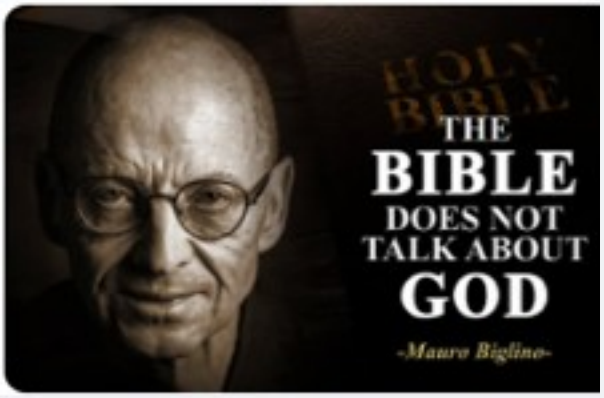
Vatican translator claims Old Testament tells us a story totally different than the one in theology.





LETS START BY DESCRIBING THESE ALIEN GODS of the Old Testament Samarian legends which came from Mesopotamian lore We will began with MARIO BIGLINO'S (WHO IS THE VATICAN'S INTERPRETER). He uses Sumerian, Old Testament documents and the Septuagint Bible as well as many dictionaries to give us a word by word description of what was actually going on in the Old Testament that the CHURCH DOES NOT TEACH. He tells us that the JEWISH, HEBREW and SUMERIAN creation stories to NOT TEACH US ABOUT OUR HEAVENLY FATHER or use the word GOD as we think of HIM today. These Old Testament and Sumerian Stories are about ANCIENT PEOPLE GROUPS WHO WORSHIPPED ALIENS.

JESUS CAME TO TOWN TO WARN US ABOUT THOSE TEACHINGS, WHICH HE CALLED THE "OLD WINE." HE TOLD HIS FOLLOWERS NOT TO PUT HIS "NEW WINE" INTO THOSE "OLD WINE SKINS" BUT THE JEWISH AND ROMAN ORTODOX CATHOLIC AND CHRISTIAN CHURCH (JROCCC) DID ANYWAY. PROPHECY TELLS US THAT THE CHURCH WILL BE DESTROYED SOON DUE TO HER DEBAUCHERY.

vero la Bibbia?

Mario states as he interprets these ancient documents

- the Bible clearly says that God dies as all men do
- the Bible explains that we have been formed with our creators' DNA
- The Bible tells us that our creators travelled by flying objects
- the Bible quotes a direct relationship between the UFOs and Sumer, the land of the flying objects' keepers
- The Glory of God was in reality... a UFO *The Bible refers to giants and tells where to find their evidence *The Angels mentioned in the Old Testament, where they are perceived as spiritual beings, however do not exist.
- The Ten Commandments written on the stone were not those that have been reported.
- John the Evangelist drew his mystical doctrines from the Hellenistic literature of his time
- and much more, such as the fact that the Church admits that the Old Testament knew of the aliens.

4. - Yahweh was not a "God"

Mr. Biglino's findings reveal that Yahweh was simply one of this group of flesh and bones individuals called the Elohim.
In the Old Testament emerges clearly that Yahweh was himself a flesh and bones individual.
And Yahweh was not even one of the most powerful Elohim. On the opposite, he was one of the less important and less powerful of the Elohim.

Yahweh was given a poor land, and a people to rule which was at the time inexistent: he had to form it and to instruct them, to fight the enemies and to conquer lands.
At the time of Moses (around 1400 BCE) even the language of that people - the Hebrew language - was inexistent: Hebrew as a language was formed four centuries later, at the time of King David.

In Deuteronomy (32:8) it is written that the Elyon - who is the Highest, the leader of the Elohim - decided the allotment of the lands among the Elohim.
The Elyon assigned to Yahweh a people that was (Deut. 32:9-10):

"in a desert land, and in the howling waste of a wilderness"

Yahweh was assigned an unimportant people, which was scattered in a desert land, in a territory devoid of any value or interest.

The Bible tells (Genesis 10:25) that the division of the lands among the Elohim happened at the time of Peleg, who was the son of Eber, Sem's great grandson.
While it is not easy to give a precise date, we could infer an approximate date between 3000 - 2500 BCE.

From history we know that at that time there were well developed civilizations, such as the Egyptians, the Sumerians and the ancient Indians. Yahweh was not assigned those people, those well developed civilizations and a fertile land, he was assigned a desert and barren land and a scattered, unimportant people.
This is clear evidence that Yahweh was one of the less important and less powerful of the Elohim.

NOTE: WHAT YOU WILL READ BELOW IS THE STORY OF THE ALIEN PANTHEON OF GODS WHO CREATED ALIEN HUMAN HYBRID RACES AS WORKER BEES AND AS BLOODLINES THAT WOULD FOLLOW THEIR LEAD AND TREAT THEM AS GODS

The ancient Mesopotamian religion recognized a pantheon of some fifty gods known as Anunna or Anunnaki in the Sumerian and Akkadian texts. These ancient terms are quite mysterious and their exact meaning is still not known for certain, but at present most scholars translate them as 'those of princely Anunnaki blood' or 'those of the serpents kingly lineage' (Leick, 2003ii). These kings were alien human hybrid bloodline descendents often referred to as those with Serpent Blood or in some cases the "Blue Bloods." They are a lineage from Cain in the Old Testament with red hair and green eyes known also as the Tuatha De Danaan.

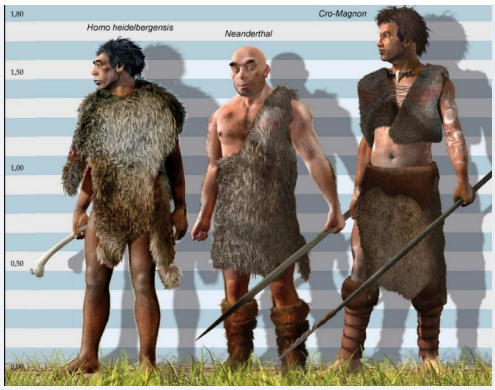
What is certain is that their meaning includes the notion that these fifty gods are the offspring of Anu, the god of heaven and king of the pantheon, and therefore they are of a celestial or what we refer to today as of ALIEN lineage. Other proposed interpretations include 'those who came from heaven to earth' and 'the gods of heaven and earth' given that in Sumerian an means 'sky' and ki is equivalent to 'earth'. The Anunnaki were higher gods of royal lineage and belonged to the heavenly council or in modern day language they belonged to a GALACTIC FEDERATION. Each deity of this group had his place in heaven and also his own city or region on earth where his followers would worship him.

The most important gods of the ALIEN pantheon were Anu, who was known as the king of heaven and father of all the Anunnaki. Enki, the firstborn son of Anu who was known as a god of wisdom, benevolence and the waters of life. Enlil, was the younger son of Anu and a brave military commander. Ninhursag was a half-sister of Enki and the mother of life. Now was ANU an alien??? Was he the leader of the WATCHERS or the FALLEN WATCHERS?

To me it appears that Anu was the leader of both the Anunnaki and the Elohim gods we find in Old Testament lore. They are OTHER DIMENSIONAL BEINGS AS SHOWN IN THE CIRCLE above. It looks like Jesus could be the head of this other dimensional council that has different tiers under Jesus, Our Heavenly Father and his Angels are observing from a Heavenly Dimension above.

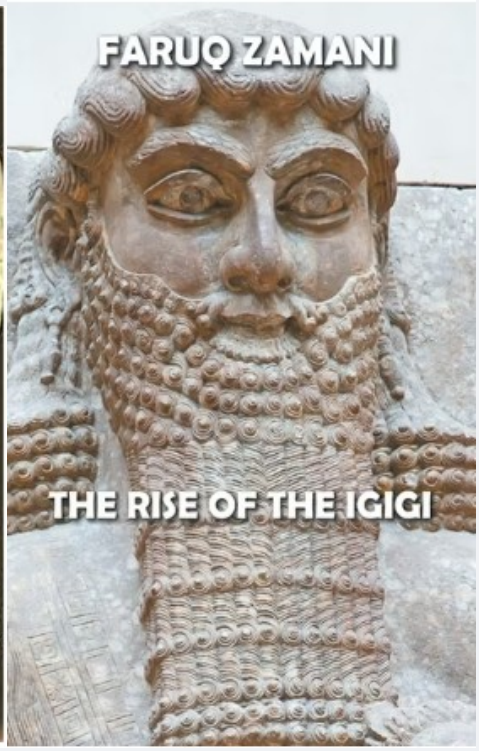


Genesis 1:27 NIV - So God created mankind in his own

So God created mankind in his own image, in the image of God he created them; male and female he created them.

Then came Marduk, the firstborn son of Enki and the great foremost god of Babylonia and the story continues.

However, according to the Mesopotamian and Old Testament Jewish texts, WHICH IS NOT THE STORY OR ORIGINAL MAN, the Anunnaki created alien human hybrid man in their image using their own divine blood that was mixed with a more primitive version of man on earth to create alien human hybrids. Bigfoot Dogman and chimera were genetically modified also using human DNA, alien DNA and OTHER animal or primate type DNA. What this means for Christians is the creator gods in the book of Genesis were ALIENS, which is not that hard to understand when we learn that the Old Testament stories apply to the Sumerian gods and that Jewish lord came form Sumerian legends and lore.



In a lower tier beneath the heavenly council of Anu there was a group of minor gods called the Igigi. These deities were workers that were subordinate to the Anunnaki. The ancient texts recount that the Igigi became tired of their exhausting and never-ending chores on earth and decided to create a mutiny in protest. According to the same accounts, after the revolt of these minor gods in the Old Testament, Enki of the heavenly council proposed the creation of HYBRID man and beasts of burden so that they would replace the Igigi that were doing these arduous tasks. It is most likely that the term Igigi are associate with the activities of the 'FALLEN WATCHERS' deriving itself from the roots igi (see) and gi (surround) (Jensen, 2012iii).

ASHERA

The western semitic religion recognized a pantheon of some seventy gods named the Elohim. They were known as the 70 sons and daughters of El, the most high, the king of the pantheon and god of the sky. His heavenly consort was Asherah, the queen of heaven and mother of all the gods out of whose womb she came. Some say Yahweh Ildabaoth the Demiurge YHWH was her husband so to speak. Sounds like gossip to me. Their is a lot of speculation around who she was and what role she played.

These human looking alien deities were worshiped by the Phoenicians, the Canaanites, the Philistines and the early Hebrews. Later the same Elohim (plural) would become the Elohim (singular) of the Bible after being monotheized by the Hebrew priesthood in exile (Smith, 2003iv; Day, 2002v). The Elohim are the levantine semitic equivalent of the Anunnaki; they are identical. So the divine entities known as Elohim (plural of El or Eloah = god) who appear in Genesis and say 'let us make man in our image and likeness' are the same Anunnaki this time in their Semitic form.

Let's bear in mind that unlike the Hebrews, Canaanites, Assyrians, Babylonians and Akkadians who formed the Semitic culture, the Sumerians spoke a language wholly distinct from the Semitic languages and therefore used different terms to refer to the gods.

The most important gods of the pantheon of the Elohim included El, the god of the sky and father of all the gods.. Asherah, the heavenly wife of El would later be slandered as a foreign goddess and cast out of the Jewish Semite cult of Yahweh in the age of the biblical prophets. Baal, the god of thunder was a young warrior alien that was represented by the calf. The Hebrew people worshipped Baal they did not like or worship Yahweh Ildabaoth the Demiurge YHWH who the Jewish Semites worshipped.

Many of the Elohim of Sumeria seem to be the same pantheon the Jews worshipped originally.. In the Levantine Semitic languages such as the Hebrew and Canaanite clans, the lexical item known as el or eloah means 'god' and derives from the proto-Semitic root ilu whose meaning is 'lofty' or 'powerful'. It is the equivalent term for Elohim in Akkadian which was Ilāni (gods).

In Semitic scriptures such as the Jewish Old Testament they were the FALLEN WATCHERS or irin in Aramaic. These beings start to appear in the Jewish texts within the Book of Daniel, an apocalyptic text that recounts the life and the visions of the Hebrew prophet Daniel during the exile in Babylonia. In that book the FALLEN WATCHERS or irin emerge as divine emissaries of Yahweh (Daniel 4:13; 4:17; 4:23).

In the following centuries the same FALLEN beings were recognized during the Judaism of the Second Temple period as being ALIENS/ANGELS or as the Messengers' of the gods. I am of the opinion that the watchers or irin of the Bible are identical to the minor gods of the Sumero-Akkadian literature. First, irin and igigi have essentially the same meaning; both terms equal 'those who watch'.

Such beings only begin to appear in the Hebrew scriptures after their contact with the Babylonian culture. The Babylonians lived in the heart of Mesopotamia and had inherited the Sumero-Akkadian religions and there literary culture directly. However, it is important to note that in the original Mesopotamian religion the Igigi were never mere angels or messengers but fully fledged gods in the whole sense of the word.

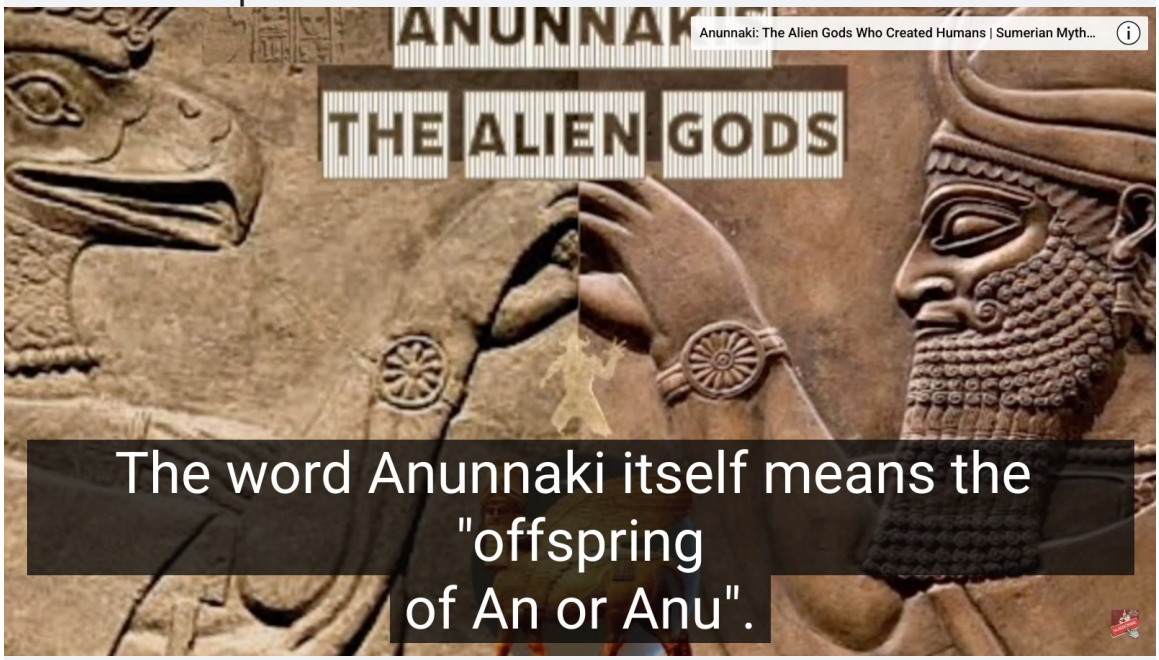
THE GODS OF THE PANTHEON

The Sumerian pantheon of gods are the most ancient gods in the land of Mesopotamia, which is thought of by Old Testament lore as the cradle of civilization. It's beliefs would form the basis of the pantheons of the later cultures in the Middle East (Kramer, 1998vi) such as the Jews, Hebrews etc. Therefore, there exists many evident similarities between the pantheons of the Sumerians, the Jewish Canaanite Shoshu Semitic peoples that lived in Canaan. This is true of the early Indo-European peoples such as the Hittites and later the Mediterranean peoples who were the Greeks.

Let's take a look at the profiles of some of the most important gods of the Sumerian pantheon and make cross-cultural comparisons.



Anunnaki: The Alien Gods Who Created Humans | Sumerian Myth...
THE ALIEN GODS
The word Anunnaki itself means the "offspring of An or Anu".

ANU: THE HEAVENLY KING AND CREATOR OF THE ANUNNAKI

Anu was the highest deity in the Sumero-Akkadian pantheon, the king of heaven, the president of the council of the gods and the progenitor of all the Anunnaki. He had his abode in the highest part of the sky and was regarded as a judge who judged over the misdemeanors of men. In the Sumerian age Anu was known as 'The Lord of the Heavenly Hosts' and it was believed that he had created them for the destruction of his enemies.

ALIENS WERE CLAIMING TO BE FROM OTHER PLANETS BACK THEN WHEN WE REALIZE TODAY THEY ARE OTHER DIMENSIONALS INSTEAD. ALIENS LIE
THERE IS NOTHING NEW
UNDER THE SUN

According to the Mesopotamian religion, Anu was associated with the planet Mars, the celestial body which symbolized war; and the planet Saturn, the dark judge of all the planets (Evans, 1998vii). The texts recount that Anu was quite a misanthropic god with a ruthless and warlike nature. Despite being the highest god of the pantheon, Anu was not the prime mover of all of creation but rather a created being like the rest of the gods of the pantheon.

Anu was created and placed in heaven by the primeval gods Anshar and Kishar and then became a violent usurper of the celestial throne defeating king Alalu in combat and proclaiming himself the MOST HIGH (Van Der Toorn, 1996viii). Here Anu has similarities with Satan/Lucifer who was the leader of the Fallen Watchers whose goal it was to above the most high god.

Anu is Yahweh, not Enlil. Let's end this lie once and for all!. An in-depth study of comparative mythology will reveal that the original identity of the biblical god Yahweh can only be Anu, the wrathful god of heaven of the Sumerian pantheon.

ANU IS YAHWEH, NOT ENLIL
AN IN-DEPTH STUDY OF COMPARATIVE MYTHOLOGY WILL REVEAL THAT THE ORIGINAL IDENTITY OF THE BIBLICAL GOD YAHWEH CAN ONLY BE ANU, THE WRATHFUL GOD OF HEAVEN OF THE SUMERIAN PANTHEON. THE TRUTH IS THAT ANU SHARES MANY STRIKING SIMILARITIES WITH YAHWEH NOT ONLY WITH REGARDS TO HIS PERSONAL TRAITS BUT ALSO ON A MYTHOLOGICAL LEVEL WHEREAS THE ONLY CHARACTERISTICS WHICH ENLIL SHARES WITH YAHWEH ARE HIS WRATHFUL AND AUTHORITARIAN PERSONALITY AND HIS MILITARY SKILL.

GOD ANU HAS A SIMILAR PROFILE TO YAHWEH ILDABAOTH THE DEMIURGE YHWH AND TO SATAN IN THE OLD TESTAMENT THAT RULED OVER THE FALLEN WATCHERS AND TO LUCIFER KING OF HELL YET YAHWEH WAS CLEARLY IDENTIFIED AS A LESSER ALIEN GOD INSIDE THE ELOHIM GROUP

Now that we know that the Elohim of Genesis were Aliens and that they were described the same and similar by all ancient and pre-flood cultures around the world their are debates going on as who WHOSE WHO AMONG THE GODS today.

In ancient times Anu had as his sacred city Uruk (the biblical Erech) where his main temple E-anna was built. As well as being a violent usurper and cruel dictator, Anu was the god most opposed to the bestowing of the divine knowledge to alien human hybrid man in the sanctuary of Eridú, which can be found in the region of Edin (Sumerian Garden of Eden). He denied man the secret of immortality and then attempted to extinguish mankind via the great deluge. Anu was an enemy of man.

Prophecy has been telling us that these same alien gods will attempt to destroy humanity and our world again today and it looks like they are starting that process as the "signs of the times are all around us." The earth is rolling, earthquakes an volcano's are reactivating and shaking the lands as well.

ANU THE GOD OR LEADER OF THE ELOHIM

Later Anu would appear in the western Jewish Semitic pantheon of gods as the deity El. Just like Anu in the Sumerian pantheon, El was regarded as the highest god, the king of heaven, the leader of the divine assembly, a great heavenly judge and the father of all the gods of the Elohim pantheon. He was worshiped as the most high god in Israel's levantine lands by the Phoenicians, the Philistines, the Canaanites and the Hebrews and was recognized as a god of agriculture and the harvest. El was placed in heaven by the primeval gods Elyon and Beruth. He later managed to rise to the throne thanks to his great military skill.

In the Semitic cultures of the Iron Age El was considered a bloodthirsty god and his cult demanded human sacrifice and the offering of firstborn sons by holocaust in exchange for an abundant harvest (Olyan, 1988ix).

It is true to say that El and Anu were regarded as the same deity by the Mesopotamian Semitic peoples such as the Babylonians and the Assyrians (Blásquez, 2001x). In fact, in the Akkadian language, the most ancient Semitic tongue, the cuneiform ideogram for the god Anu had two phonetic values and could be read as Anu or Ilu. It is known that the ancient Semitic root Ilu is the origin of the divine appellation Il in Ugaritic, Phoenician an as El in Canaanite and Hebrew.

Later the same El, the Semitic version of Anu, would become the biblical deity El or Elohim presenting himself as the most high and the only god worthy of worship and praise. In the pre-Israelite Semitic religion El was known by his divine title El dū yahwī ṣaba’ôt whose meaning is 'El who creates the armies' (Miller, 2000xi), an epithet shared with his later biblical counter part Yahweh Sebaot (he who creates the armies) and akin to the nickname of his Sumerian precursor Anu, 'The Lord of the Heavenly Hosts'.

Anu is Yahweh, not Enlil. Let's end this lie once and for all!. An in-depth study of comparative mythology will reveal that the original identity of the biblical god Yahweh can only be Anu, the wrathful god of heaven of the Sumerian pantheon.

Another epithet of El was Ab Shnom or 'Father of Years', a description whose Hebrew variant would later appear as 'Ancient of Days' in the Book of Daniel and as 'great God (El) whose years are uncountable' in the Book of Job (Day, 2002xii). This means that El was an aged god and a deity of time. El was associated with the planet Saturn, the great judge of the firmament. His gruesome sacrificial practices would continue among the Jews in the biblical religion as a vestige of his pre-biblical character (Smith, 2002xiii). In the end, Anu and El are identical being the same entity from the beginning and he would then be reinvented by the Deuteronomy Revisionists as the one and only god the biblical god named Yahweh Ildabaoth the Demiruge YHWH when he was really one of the lower Elohim alien gods.

In antiquity the same El of the western Semitic peoples was known by the Greeks as Kronos (Smith, 2002xiv). In Greek mythology Kronos was the highest titan of the Hellenic pantheon, the lord of the throne of heaven, the chief of the assembly of the gods on Olympus, a deity of agriculture and harvest, the god of time and matter, and a ruthless tyrant. Moreover, he was a violent usurper of the heavenly throne defeating his own father in a fight for supremacy and a god of human sacrifice and child holocaust who asked for the shedding of human blood by immolation. His main symbols were the scythe, the cross and the fading moon. In Kronos we see many striking similarities with El of the Semitic religion. In fact, the origin of the name Kronos remains unknown and what is certain is that it isn't a native root of the Greek tongue. Therefore, it is thought that Kronos was a foreign deity to the Greeks and was imported to the Hellenic lands via the neighboring Semitic culture. The same Kronos was known as Saturn in the Latin speaking world and possessed the same traits in Roman culture. The sacred day of Saturn-Kronos is Saturday named Dies Saturni o 'Day of Saturn' in Latin and Kronía in classical Greek in honor of Kronos.

At the same time, the sacred day of the Jews is Saturday (Sabbath). Many people know that Sabbath has the meaning 'day of rest', but very few people know that the Hebrew equivalent Shabbath from where we get the term shares its etymological root with Shabbathai, the Hebrew name for the god and the planet Saturn. In the end, the initiated Jews, those who are the elites of the Jewry and of the inner circle, worship Saturn openly. Judaism has always been a cult of Saturn from the beginning and Christianity and Islam, two religions derived directly from Judaism, are two crypto-saturnic cults whose real god is Saturn-Kronos, the evil god of this world

In a nutshell, the god of heaven Anu of the Sumerian pantheon, the highest heavenly deity El of the western semitic pantheon, the derived biblical El or Yahweh, the bloody Greek god Kronos and his Roman equivalent Saturn are in fact identical. They are all distinct facets of the very same entity at the various stages of its evolution. This ancient multifaceted god is a malevolent being whom the Gnostics associated with the evil god of this world, Yaldabaoth. Anu-El-Saturn-Kronos is the wicked god and usurper who took over the earth some several millennia ago. He is the overlord of Kali Yuga, the dark age of deception in which we find ourselves today; and his 'angels' are the evil Archons who rule over our world in a surreptitious manner.

Although many people believe that the cult of Saturn is already something of the past, the saturnic religion is still very much alive in the present. Saturnic symbolism can be found in the logos of many Illuminist companies and the imagery of many secret societies of the ruling elite.

Here I am going to reveal a shocking and bloodcurdling truth.

The god of the Illuminati isn't Lucifer as some groups would like to have us believe; the god of the Illuminati is Saturn, the god of the Jews, the very same Yahweh Ildabaoth the Demiurge YHWH!

The Illuminati of today, the elites of the uppermost echelon of society, mostly Zionist Jews, Kabbalistic Masons and high initiates of various occult secret societies, are worshipers of Saturn-El-Yahweh, the god of Israel, whose original identity is the malevolent Sumerian god Anu. The Illuminati Serpentine bloodlines are his true Chosen People. They are his earthly ALIEN HUMAN HYBRID sons. They have a heinous pact with him, a real Faustian Bargain. They control the present world in a covert manner under the guidance of their depraved god, the ancient celestial deity who took over many areas of the earth some four millennia ago after his victory in the last cosmic war between the gods just prior to the fall of the last Sumerian kingdom.

His religious and philosophical world systems are the Abraham monotheistic religions (Judaism, Christianity and Islam), Zionism, Illuminism, modern 'Satanism' (here the same malevolent god is in both camps manipulating the gullible followers of two opposed sects) and many of today's occultist brotherhoods.

Enki: The Wise Prince

In the Sumero-Akkadian pantheon Enki was the firstborn son of king Anu and the great prince of the Anunnaki. He formed part of the highest triad of the pantheon along with his father and his half-brother Enlil. He was recognized as the god of the waters of the Abzu, the place of the creation of the human HYBRID race according to the ancient texts. He was a deity of science and wisdom, the builder of the great civilizations, a master of magic and the spiritual mysteries and the lord of the Tree of the Me, a Sumerian term which referred to the heavenly knowledge of the gods and the Mesopotamian equivalent of the Tree of Knowledge in the later Hebrew book of Genesis.

Enki and Enlil Depicted on a Carving

He was loved as the great father of humanity being the creator of man and a benevolent god who always loved the human race. Moreover, Enki was the lord of the sanctuary of Eridú, his sacred city, located in the land of Edin between the great rivers towards the east. This sanctuary was the Sumerian precursor of the Garden of Eden in the Bible. His most well known nicknames were Nudimmud whose meaning is 'Maker' and Ushumgal, a Sumerian epithet that means 'Great Serpent'. According to the Mesopotamian accounts, Enki is the god who granted man science and civilization.

ENKI GENETICALLY MODIFIED ADAM AND THEN CLONED EVE

In the more ancient accounts of creation such as the Eridú Genesis and the Poem of Atrahasis among others, it is Enki who creates man (Adamu) via divine blood and a soul of the gods. The maker of mankind isn't Anu-Yahweh but his firstborn son Enki. According to the same texts, it is Enki who forewarns Ziusudra of the deluge of the malevolent gods and saves him via a watercraft which the Old Testament refers to as the ark. The savior of humanity isn't Anu-Yahweh but prince Enki. In the end, Enki the benevolent god is the true god of the human alien hybrid species in Mesopotamia etc., in the Middle East.

His main symbols include the Serpent that represents the life force and divine wisdom and the fishes of the sea, for he is the god of the waters. His constellations are Aquarius, the bearer of the water of knowledge; and Capricorn, since Enki was associated with the goat in ancient times. The Age of Aquarius is the era of Enki and will be the start of his reign over the earth at a time in the near future. It is believed that the meaning of his Sumerian name is 'Lord of the Earth', for he was and will again be the prince of our planet. To me it sounds like they are also equating Enki with Jesus here.

In the civilizations of Akkad and Babylonia Enki was known as Ea, the noble father of Marduk, the principal deity of Babylon. It is not known what is the meaning of his Akkadian name with certainty, but some scholars believe that it could be a combination of the Sumerian roots e- (house, temple) and -a (water) giving the meaning 'he of the house of water', an appropriate appellation for an aquiferous god. In Egypt he was known as Ptah, an Egyptian name which means 'Master Builder', a title quite akin to his Sumerian epithet Nudimmud (Maker) on a semantic level. Ptah was worshiped as a god of wisdom, the occult science and the crafts and was known by various nicknames such as 'Lord of Magic', 'Lord of Truth' and ''Lord of Serpents and Fishes.

In the ancient western Semitic pantheon of the Canaanites and the Phoenicians his equivalent was Kothar-wa-Khasis, one of the sons of El and a great god of science, wisdom, skill, engineering, architecture, magic and the occult arts. Due to the discovery of an Ugaritic text that denominates the sacred abode of Kothar-wa-Khasis as HKPT, some scholars consider the possibility that he and Ptah were the same deity given that Hikaptah means 'house of the soul of Ptah' in the Egyptian tongue. Let's bear in mind that Semitic languages such as Ugaritic and Canaanite were written with only consonants and on very few occasions were the vowels represented in writing.

In one version of Greek mythology Enki was represented as Poseidon, one of the sons of Kronos (Anu, El, Yahweh) and the great titan of the waters of the sea. Unlike the other titans, Poseidon was a benevolent god and a great friend of humanity who taught his followers the celestial arts. He was a deity of science, construction and the metallurgic and sculptural arts. Besides, he was admired as a powerful magician and a master of the hidden mysteries. In another Hellenic account Enki is represented as the benevolent Prometheus, the ultra-wise and good-willed titan who after creating man in his own image rebells against the senior titans and grants mankind the fire of the wisdom of the gods. According to Greek mythology, Prometheus is punished and vilified for his act of rebellion and his love for humans. This myth forms a parallel with the Sumerian literature according to which Enki, the father of the human race, rebells against the council of Anu and bestows upon humanity the science of the Anunnaki named the Me in Sumerian.

Enki appears indirectly also in the Book of Genesis, this time represented in a negative way. Let's bear in mind that the Bible of the Jews is a propaganda document whose goals are the slandering of the enemies of the Hebrew god Anu-Yahweh-Saturn and the upholding of the Anuist order and the monotheistic theocracy of the Jewish elites. Enki, the Ushumgal or Great Serpent, the lord of the sanctuary of Eridú in the eastern land of Edin and master of the Tree of the Me according to the ancient Sumerian accounts, appears in the distorted biblical Genesis as the Serpent of the Garden of Eden in the land of the great rivers in the east. He is the mysterious being who has access to the Tree of Knowledge in midst of the garden. He is the great serpentine rebel who grants man the heavenly knowledge opening his eyes and making him as the gods (Genesis 3:22) rebelling against Yahweh and his cherubims.

As we all know, the Bible demonizes the Serpent as the devil and defames him as the father of evil and the adversary of mankind. However, all that is a big lie of the Jews, worshipers of Saturn; allies of Anu. The proof of that is that all the pre-biblical texts of the times of the Sumerians, the Akkadians and the Babylonians explain clearly that Enki is the father of alien hybrid humanity and a great benefactor of those bloodlines or races They also recount the numerous acts of misanthropy by Anu, the Mesopotamian precursor of the biblical Yahweh. In reality, the great Serpent Enki did Adam a huge favor granting his the knowledge of the gods and liberating him from the slavery of the malevolent tyrant Yahweh. Contrary to what Judeochristian theology teaches, the Serpent didn't bring death and suffering to the world of man. The very same Genesis tells that Adam was unable to attain the fruit of immortality because Yahweh ordered that his cherubims obstruct the path to the Tree of Life (Genesis 3:24).

Enki, the Great Serpent who rebelled against the tyranny of his father Anu and gave man great divine knowledge, is the true benevolent creator and loving father of humanity.

Enlil: The Great Brave Warrior

In the Sumero-Akkadian pantheon Enlil was the second son of Anu and half-brother of Enki. A young warrior and a great military brain, Enlil was a respected and feared authoritarian god. His Sumerian name means 'Lord of the Wind' as he was a god of the air and of storms. He stood out for his great military skill and his unprecedented bravery. His sacred city was Nippur located in the heart of Mesopotamia between the Tigris and the Euphrates. When Enlil married his divine wife Ninlil, he engendered a great lineage of warriors whose most well known members include the war god Ninurta and the amazingly beautiful warrior goddess Inanna, known also by her Akkadian name Ishtar.

ENLIL YAHWEH ILDABAOTH THE DEMIURGE AND ANU CAUSE THE LAST POLE SHIFT KNOWN TO US AS THE YOUNGER DRYAS PERIOD AND TO THE JEWS AS THE FLOOD IN AN ATTEMPT TO DESTROY MANKIND

Enlil was known for his wrathful character and his aggression. During the antediluvian age and up until the destruction of the Sumerian nation some four millennia ago, Enlil occupied an extremely high position in the heavenly council and worked beside his father Anu. In the beginning, Enlil hated humans inheriting the misanthropic sentiments of his father. The Mesopotamian texts recount that Enlil was opposed to the development of human civilization and even collaborated with his father in the extermination project called the Flood. Because of his violent and warlike past, Enlil is regarded as identical to Yahweh by some people; however, that is an erroneous association. Enlil isn't Yahweh at all; his father Anu is the alien god assocated with Yahweh Ildabaoth the Demurge YHWH. Enlil was opposed to Enki at the start fighting against his half-brother in a fraternal rivalry, but later he would be rejected by his malevolent father and slandered by the people of Anu.

As it is the case with the other Sumerian deities, the cult of Enlil spread throughout the whole Middle East and even into parts of Mediterranean Europe. In the western Semitic pantheon he was known as Baal, one of the sons of El and the god of storms and thunder. Just like his Mesopotamian equivalent Enlil, Baal was recognized as a brave young warrior and a high ranking member of the assembly of the Elohim. In the land of Israel during the Iron Age Baal was represented by the calf. In the biblical age we find this ancient deity defamed as a foreign god and enemy of El or Yahweh and belittled as Ba'al Zevuv (Beelzebub), a play on words in Hebrew and a mocking expression whose meaning is 'lord of the flies'. Later this same Beelzebub would be turned into the prince of demons in Jewish demonology. Given that Enlil and Baal are identical, this kind of mockery against Baal in the Bible allows us to understand that at some point after the fall of the Sumerian civilization and before the redaction of the Hebrew Bible, Enlil became an enemy of his father Anu-El-Yahweh and was demonized by him. That means that Enlil and Anu are now adversaries in the cosmic struggle and Enlil is allied with his half-brother Enki.

Marduk: The Great God of Babylonia.

THEY WERE ALL EVIL SERPENTINE GODS

Being the beloved firstborn son of Enki and born to the goddess Damkina, Marduk is an ultra-wise and extremely powerful god. An Anunnaki of the second generation, Marduk became the main god of the sumptuous city of Babylon with the blessing of his father made proud. In the age of the foremost Babylonian greatness, we find in literary texts such as the epic poem of Enuma Elish his glorious ascension to the throne of the pantheon. Just like his father, Marduk is a god of great knowledge, a great builder of brilliant civilizations, a renowned master of magic and a great ruler. Moreover, he was represented by the dragon or Serpent like Enki.

His wife is the beautiful Sarpanitu and his firstborn son is Nabu, the god of scribeship and intellect. It is believed that his name is derived from the phrase Amar-Utu whose meaning is 'calf of the sun'. In Babylon he was called Bel, a title that means 'lord' in the Babylonian dialect, and his epithets included bel rabim (great lord), bel belim (lord of lords) and muballit mite (resurrector of the dead). His main temple was the Etemenanki, a magnificent Ziggurat seven stories high which was dedicated to him in the 6th century BCE. In Egypt, Marduk was identified with the solar deity Amon-Ra. His sacred city in Egypt was Heliopolis, the city of the sun.

A god of the Enkite lineage, Marduk became a big enemy of his evil grandfather. Seemingly, Anu would end up forging enmities with all the members of his family starting with his firstborn son Enki, then with his second son Enlil and lastly with his grandson Marduk. In the end all of the offspring of the lineage were inducted into Anu's infamous and disgusting book of defamation at one time or another. First, Enki, the Great Serpent, was slandered as the adversary of mankind in the Book of Genesis.

Second, as we saw previously, Enlil (Baal) was belittled as Beelzebub and turned into the prince of demons by the disgraceful and wretched people of Anu in their would-be holy book. Finally his grandson Marduk, his great rival and lord of the beautiful civilization of Babylonia, was added to the list of victims in his filthy papyrus of malignity. Marduk appears in the Bible in the age of the prophets under the Hebraic name Merodach and his epithet Bel. In Jeremiah 51:44 the spiteful Yahweh (Anu) swears to punish Marduk in his own city and bring down his sumptuous civilization. In Isaiah 46:1-2 the same megalomaniac claims that his grandson (Marduk) and his great grandson (Nabu) have bowed down before him and humiliated themselves. The evil Anu has fought with all the gods of the lineage of Enki and also with his once predilect son Enlil. In the end, the civilizations of Babylonia and Egypt were great bastions of the Enkite lineage godfathered by deities such as Marduk and Nabu whereas the people of Israel was a nation of the lineage of Anu. Thus would occur the great family rivalry among the Anunnaki in antiquity.

Ninhursag: The Lady of the Gods

In Mesopotamia Ninhursag she was recognized as daughter of Anu and half-sister of Enki being one of the seven principal deities of the pantheon. She was worshiped as a goddess of fertility and regarded as the mother of life since she herself, according to the texts, carried out an important role in the creation of man (Adamu). Ninhursag assisted her half-brother in the formation of man in the clay of the Abzu and then offered her own divine womb in order to give birth to the new alien human hybrid creature. Ninhursag is the birthing goddess who bore the first members of the alien human hybrid species. Ninhursag is a benevolent goddess for humanity.

Her original Sumerian name means 'Lady of the Sacred Mountains'. In the Sumerian and Akkadian texts she was known by her various nicknames and epithets such as Ninmah (Great Lady), Nintu (Lady of Life) and Belet-Ili (Lady of the Gods).

Ningishzidda: A God of Heavenly Science

An ultra-wise Enkite god, Ningishzidda was a great divine teacher known in several distinct places under many names for his immense knowledge of science, magic and the occult arts. Ningishzidda was the founder of various sumptuous civilizations and a benevolent master of the mysteries of heaven for humans. With regards to his divine lineage, there are various interpretations. Some scholars believe that he was the progeny of the god Ninazu, a son of Enlil and Ninlil, whereas others suggest that he was a son of Enki and therefore a half-brother of Marduk. There also exists a third interpretation by which Ningishzidda is considered a son of Anu and thus an Anunnaki of the first tier just like Enki and Enlil. His Sumerian name, according to the expert sumerologist Thorkild Jacobsen, means 'Lord of the Good Tree', as Ningishzidda was a lord of the Tree of Life. Like Enki, Ningishzidda was a god who knew many secrets and one of the very few souls who knew how to reanimate the dead. Therefore, in Sumer he was known as a god of the underworld.

Very similar to Enki, Ningishzidda was represented as an ophidian god and symbolized by a rod with two entwined serpents identical to the Caduceus. In Egypt he was known as Thot and venerated as a master of science, mathematics, astronomy, astrology, geometry, medicine, scribeship, legislation, theology, magic and mysticism. His sacred city was Hermopolis Magna where his main temple 'House of Life' was located. In Greece he was known by the name Hermes. Just like his Mesopotamian equivalent, Hermes was regarded as a guide of the souls of the departed being a god of the netherworld and was represented by the Caduceus. In Mesoamerica he became Quetzalcoatl, the Feathered Serpent, a benevolent creator god according to Mexican mythology. Quetzalcoatl founded the magnificent Mesoamerican civilization very similar to the Egyptian one and bestowed upon the indigenous people the knowledge of the gods. Just like Ningishzidda in Sumer and Thot-Hermes in the Hellenic culture, Quetzalcoatl was depicted with a rod surrounded by two entwined serpents in his hand.

The True Nature of the Gods of the Pantheon: Alientheism

The Sumerians made it clear in their texts that an extraordinarily powerful superhuman race coming from the sky called the Anunnaki created man in their image so that he would replace the minor gods in their chores and then the same race taught man culture and civilization. Likewise, the western semitic texts, the Bible included, speak of a council of heavenly beings known as the Elohim and recount that they made man in their image and likeness so that he would till the earth of the terrestrial sanctuary. Later the same Genesis tells that some mysterious beings called Bene ha Elohim or sons of the gods descended from heaven and took for themselves human women engendering anomalous hybrid offspring that would later become the great men of renown. In ancient times such celestial beings were named 'gods' by the men of the past; however, who were the Anunnaki and Elohim really?

TODAY WE WOULD CALL THEM EXTRATERRESTRIALS OR ALIENS

Although many self-proclaimed rationalist thinkers including scholars and laymen alike wish to view the ancient mythologies as works of fiction and relegate their accounts to the category of mere symbolic fables, fictitious stories and primitive worldviews of the superstitious and uneducated minds of a pre-scientific age simply because ideas of the supernatural and futuristic don't fit into their narrow and limited worldview and don't match up to their prejudices, a truly intelligent thinker considers in all seriousness the idea that everything mythological has a historical and real-life foundation.

A truly enlightened man knows that ancient humans were not half ignorant and unsophisticated cavemen as many would like to believe, but rather ultra-sapient men with high levels of knowledge and ratiocination. Therefore, it is absurd to think that men so gifted such as those who built the pyramids, raised the Ziggurats and possessed an advanced knowledge of astronomy just invented superstitious stories in order to understand the unknown. They were men of science! The ancient scribes registered happenings that they themselves or their ancestors had witnessed with their own eyes. They recorded real events interpreting them in accordance with their cultural understanding and the language of their time.

The idea that the ancient gods were really advanced extraterrestrials originating on another planet in space no longer seems so outlandish when one considers that terms such as god and extraterrestrial are simply a question of language. If we analyze the situation correctly, we will realize that a god and an extraterrestrial are essentially the same. The gods of antiquity have their origin in the sky, occasionally come to earth often in mysterious flying vehicles like chariots of fire and cloud columns, create man via seemingly supernatural methods unknown to humanity and watch over human civilization as to ensure its sound functioning.

Likewise, other dimensional beings come from a dark dimension that is located in what now appears to be DARK MATTER found in the second heaven or outer space, descend from their dimensional location to earth in spacecrafts more technologically superior than any human aerial vehicle, could have created humanity by artificial insemination and genetic engineering once unknown to man. These other dimensional entities visit earth perhaps in order to intervene in politics or maybe to observe and TWEEK their alien human hybrid experiment. In the texts of ancient religions the gods have to eat and can die in combat just as the Bible indicates. Extraterrestrials are biological beings who have to feed themselves and continue to be mortal despite their perceived longevity. If we think about the stories of these ancient Middle East gods and aliens correctly, both have more or less identical characteristics. It is only a matter of terms and definitions that separate the two.

In the languages of the Mesopotamian peoples of antiquity there didn't exist words such as other dimensions and aliens. Those are terms belonging to our modern culture, which were coined just over a century ago. Therefore, ancient man named the superhuman beings who came down from the sky with words typical of their own culture and era calling them gods, messengers of the gods, or angels. What the Sumerians witnessed in the third century BCE was essentially identical to the ufological phenomenon that we see today. However, the people of that epoch maintained a much more intimate relationship with these other dimensional beings of their time living side by side with their alien teachers and seeing them with their own eyes. The Sumero-Akkadian texts recount how some of the gods dwelt in their sacred cities on earth and interacted with men. Likewise, even the Hebrew Bible mentions that Yahweh, the god of Israel, and his heavenly emissaries came down to the earth and conversed face to face with prophets and patriarchs such as Moses and in some occasions they even carried away their followers to heaven such as in the cases of Enoch and Elijah.

It is perfectly reasonable to believe that the origin of polytheism was a prolonged close encounter with ancient other dimensional astronauts who were extremely advanced and like gods as they compared them to small human beings in some cases less that half their size. The alien pantheon of gods were seen in the Bible as a confusing group of beings that sat in councils to debate what they were doing. They are described as taking charge of the management of the various civilizations of the earth. The Anunnaki of the Mesopotamian texts and the Elohim of the western Semitic religions were in reality highly advanced other dimensional biological entities capable of space flight and genetic engineering, masters of a high level of technology and with extremely long life spans. They were a race of humanoids from the cosmos that had followed an evolutionary path more ancient and therefore more advanced than ours. They weren't just ethereal beings, but physical entities of flesh and bone similar to us but with well developed psychic and supernatural abilities due to their spiritual evolution. They are biological beings of an alien origin, but they were also considered as gods given that they have reached the highest level of evolution and technological abilities. They arrived on earth in advanced spacecrafts and established their terrestrial bases on and inside the earth.

They had the knowledge to create alien human hybrid man through the manipulation of the DNA of our pre-existing human race known as ORIGINAL MAN and by using and tweaking our ancestors DNA with their DNA and the DNA of other animals etc. They shut off most of our human DNA leaving us with only 3% of our ORIGINAL DNA known as our ACTIVE DNA.

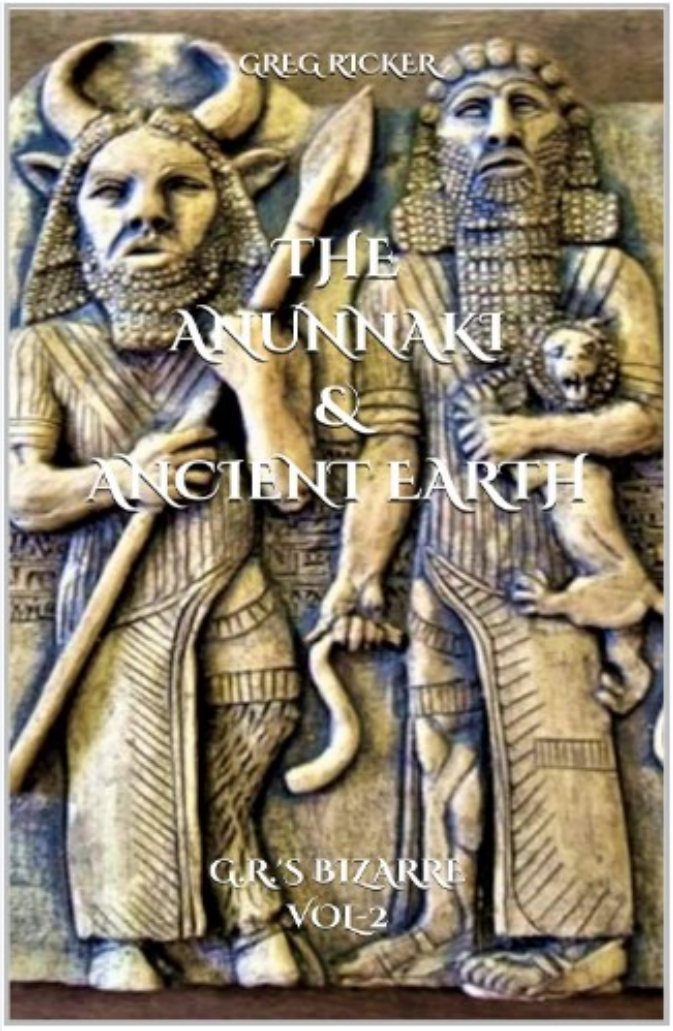
First, among many conspiracy theorists there is the idea that the Anunnaki are a race of cruel and malevolent reptilians and I would agree with that. Yet not all of the FALLEN WATCHERS were reptilian looking. The Nordic Alien FALLEN WATCHERS look very human.



The Anunnaki gods appear to have been hybrid giants the Bible refers to as the Nephilim gods.

There are various serpent-like symbols and epithets adopted by some of the gods and researchers interpret them as evidence that the Anunnaki are a reptilian race, but in reality the symbols of the serpent assumed by Enki, Marduk and Ningishzidda do have an evil spiritual meaning. It seems that truth about the Serpentine image may also represent the power of the Kundalini, which is the life force, wisdom and occult spiritual knowledge they possessed.

WE STICK TO THE FACTS AS WE DESCIFER THEM

Second, among critics and naysayers there exists the false assumption that the Ancient Astronaut Theory is a product of the imagination of the Russian author Zechariah Sitchin and therefore the paradigm loses its validity as soon as the man's erroneous claims are debunked. However, such reasoning is nothing more than a straw man fallacy. Although Sitchin is one of the most well known authors that support the alternative theory he is by no means the first or the only proponent and it is certain that there exist various different perspectives within the same paradigm. In other words, not all the proponents of the paleo-astronaut viewpoint are in agreement with all the Sitchinian interpretations. The truth is that since Sitchin published his first book The Twelfth Planet in 1976 several authors of the same paradigm have written a load of books that expose other Ancient Astronaut interpretations distinct from the original proposals of Sitchin and offer various novel perspectives. In fact, many proponents of the Ancient Astronaut Theory recognize that there are mistakes in some of the interpretations of Sitchin, but that doesn't mean that the general paradigm is wrong. We are not Sitchinites, but Enkists; we do not base ourselves on the writings of Sitchin but directly in the ancient texts and in the Enkist perspective.
